LANDI RENZO: preliminary results as at 30 June 2016

Cavriago (RE), 28 July 2016

Landi Renzo announces that, based on the preliminary results examined by Board of Directors today, 2016 first half revenues amount at 89.3 million euro.

In the alternative fuels industry, in fact, it should be noted that while some areas of Eastern Europe and the Asian continent are experiencing a stabilization or signals of a slight recovery in the sector, the market continues to present uncertainties in some important countries of North and South America. This is due, primarily, to the current market price of oil that continues to remain at low levels.

The approval of the definitive results as at June 30, 2016 is scheduled for September 27, 2016 and, for this reason, further information on the expected data for the current financial year will be provided upon the approval of the first half results.
